For instance, our cities have a major challenge to manage the growing daily stream of tourism to our historical city center. Of course, we are first and foremost a welcoming city. However, we have to find new arrangements to remain this welcoming city, while at the same time ensure our city's livability to its inhabitants. To keep the city livable and workable, we will look into different possibilities, such as maximizing groups for guided visits, limiting certain shops in certain districts that serve only tourists and limiting certain types of 'fun transports' such as 'beer bicycles'.

- BACKGROUND: Directive 2006/123/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council provides, inter alia, that authorisation schemes and certain types of requirements related to services must be non-discriminatory with regard to nationality or residence, justified by an overriding reason related to the public interest.

- To make sure that new measures imposed by Member States actually fulfil these conditions and thus facilitate the competitiveness and integration of the single market in services, the Services Directive provides that Member States shall notify to the Commission new or changed authorisation schemes or certain new or changed requirements falling under the Directive.

- Commission assessments have shown, however, that the current notification procedure under the Services Directive does not always achieve its objective. The Commission therefore presents a self-standing legislative instrument modernising the current notification procedure under the Services Directive in order to improve the enforcement of the existing provisions of that Directive.
